MCCW Designated Offering FAQs

Who is requesting the designated offering?

MCCW-Worldwide, with support from the Archdiocese for Military Services, has reached out to Catholic chapels across all five branches of service to request their consideration for a designated offering. Women's ministry groups may also approach their chaplain-priest to share the importance of this designated offering. MCCW is a registered nonprofit organization, operating as a subsidiary of the Archdiocese for Military Services. Taking a designated offering for MCCW is no different than taking a designated offering for another nonprofit organization like the Knights of Columbus or the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

When should the offering be done?

Designated offerings for MCCW can be held at any time during the year. We encourage you to showcase the work of your women's ministry group, as well as MCCW, during the weekend of your offering.

Who does the designated offering benefit?

For 60 years, MCCW-Worldwide has supported Catholic women and Catholic communities across the five branches of the military with faith formation opportunities. Resources received through designated offerings are put directly into MCCW's Seeds of Faith Fund which is plowed back into programmatic and administrative activities that allow us to continue supporting our Catholic sisters, chapel communities, and chaplains at installations around the world.
