

Listen. Incline the Ear. Your Heart.

A Day of Reflection on Discernment, Baptism, and Hospitality, and with Lydia of Philippi

What does it mean to practice biblical hospitality? How do we give and receive hospitality in our walk with Christ, our Faith Communities, our families, and in the strangers we meet?

This experiential day of reflection invites ladies to enter Lydia's world. As the first convert to Christianity in Europe, Lydia was a pioneer of the Gospel, and her response to God was to offer hospitality to those who preached the Gospel.

Through a day of presentation, spiritual exercise, sharing, music, food, and fellowship, we invite you to the world of Lydia of Philippi. During this day of reflection communities will reconsider Baptism and "putting on Christ" for others. Participants will gain an understanding of hospitality and practices to implement "putting on Christ" in their faith communities.

To invite MCCW to present this day of reflection, or to obtain materials to present your own day of reflection on Lydia, contact info@mccw.org.

If you consider me a believer in the Lord, come stay at my home. - Act 16:15

